

What are the problems?

Not enough I/O capacity on current HPC systems, and the trend is getting worse.

If there's not enough I/O, you can't write data to storage, so you can't analyze it: lost science.

Energy consumption: it costs a lot of power to write data to disk.

Opportunity for doing better science (analysis) when have access to full spatiotemporal resolution data.

